Introduction

My name is Christopher Bodenlos, and I'm a developer with a penchant for the web, interaction design, and the visual arts.

In my current role as a freelance developer, as in my previous role as Senior Web Developer at TDO Communications Inc. in Irvington, New York, I develop creative solutions to complex problems, helping clients effectively represent themselves and engage with their customers on the web.

I hope to use my experience to explore new avenues of engagement on the web and beyond.
